ANNUAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
A Collaborative Approach to Designing Safer Schools

In the wake of the numerous school shootings over the years, there are ongoing strategy discussions with law enforcement, students, teachers, school district leaders, design professionals and the community at large about innovative design solutions for educational buildings that promote both safety and progressive learning environments.

This roundtable will serve as a forum to:

• Gain insight into the current opportunities, challenges and strategies being discussed by South Florida School District Leaders

• Discuss how the AEC industry is involved in making the connection between design and security

Join the discussion on how to rethink building design to protect students but not inhibit their educational environment and experience.
